Kendahl Quimby is a native of Baton Rouge, Louisiana where she graduated with honors from Parkview Baptist High School. She went on to become a proud alumna of Louisiana State University (GEAUX TIGERS!), having majored and minored in Biological Sciences and Sociology, respectively. She was an active participant in LSU's premedical society Alpha Epsilon Delta, and is an alumna member of the Delta Kappa chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Ms. Quimby has been practicing as an Ocularist since 2007 under the direction of Marcus Soper. She is currently enrolled in the professional training program sponsored by the American Society of Ocularists and is pursuing her Board Certification from the National Examining Board of Ocularists.

Ms. Quimby has gained much inspiration from various persons throughout her life, the greatest of those being her mother, who was the first female dentist in her hometown of Baton Rouge. As far as Ms. Quimby can remember, her mother had always told her that one day she would do something great with her hands!

Kendahl was the 2001 2nd runner-up in the Louisiana Junior Miss Pageant. She is classically trained in ballet and enjoys theater arts.
